

HH in Greece update

March 15, 2012

Dear Praying Friends,

Although we have transitioned off the Helping Hands team, we still want to share some news of what God is doing through this strategic and effective ministry among refugees in Athens. Many of you have invested in, and prayed for, this ministry we helped start many years ago. We hope you will continue to do so. Please take a few minutes to read the attached report (written by Christy Taylor) and see the great pics it includes. You will be glad you did!

I will be sending out another update regarding our family, furlough plans, and our new ministry team in a few days.

Grateful,

Scott and Vicki

Hello! Please find my latest update attached. Also, check out this 2-minute video about the refugee situation in Greece at http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=QhSFnDV_raY. From the back balcony of the Refugee Center we can see the medical charity shown in this video. Literally directly across the street from the Refugee Center is where the food is shown being handed out. This video takes place in the neighborhood I work in and many of the people shown in it are familiar faces to me. Please continue to pray for Greece!
